

Experience Roskopf with ROSSY

Köpfl

Wishing Bell

Sternhütte

Mountain Coaster

8 Hare Burrow

Chalet Super-G

ROSSY PARK

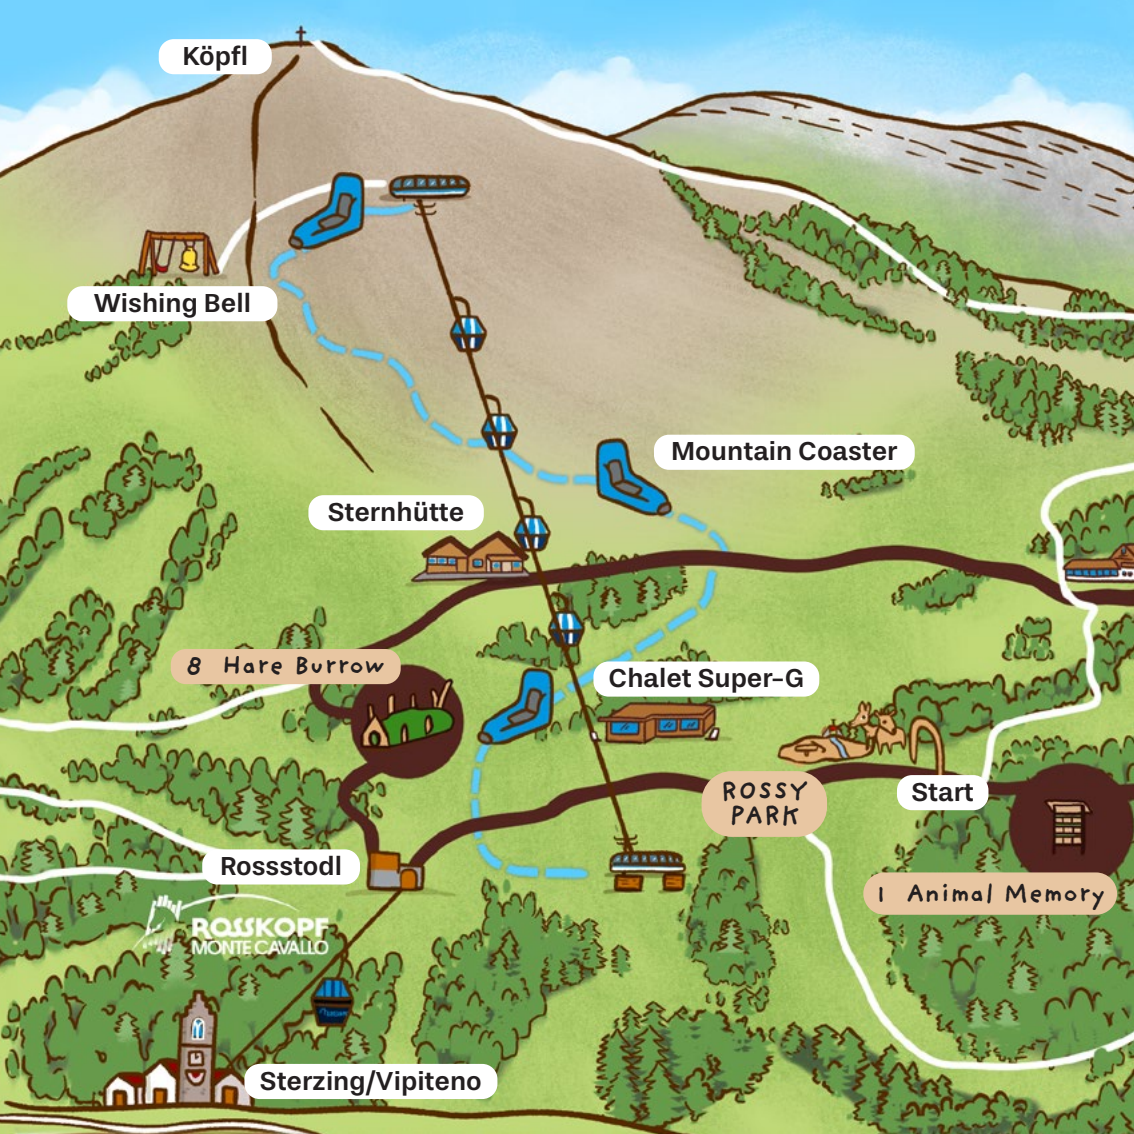

Start

1 Animal Memory

Rosstodl

ROSKOPF
MONTE CAVALLO

Sterzing/Vipiteno

ROSSY WALK

FAMILY

3,3 km

1:30 h

1 Sterzingerhaus

2 Bell Game

3 Rocking Horse

6 Ants Village

4 Butterfly

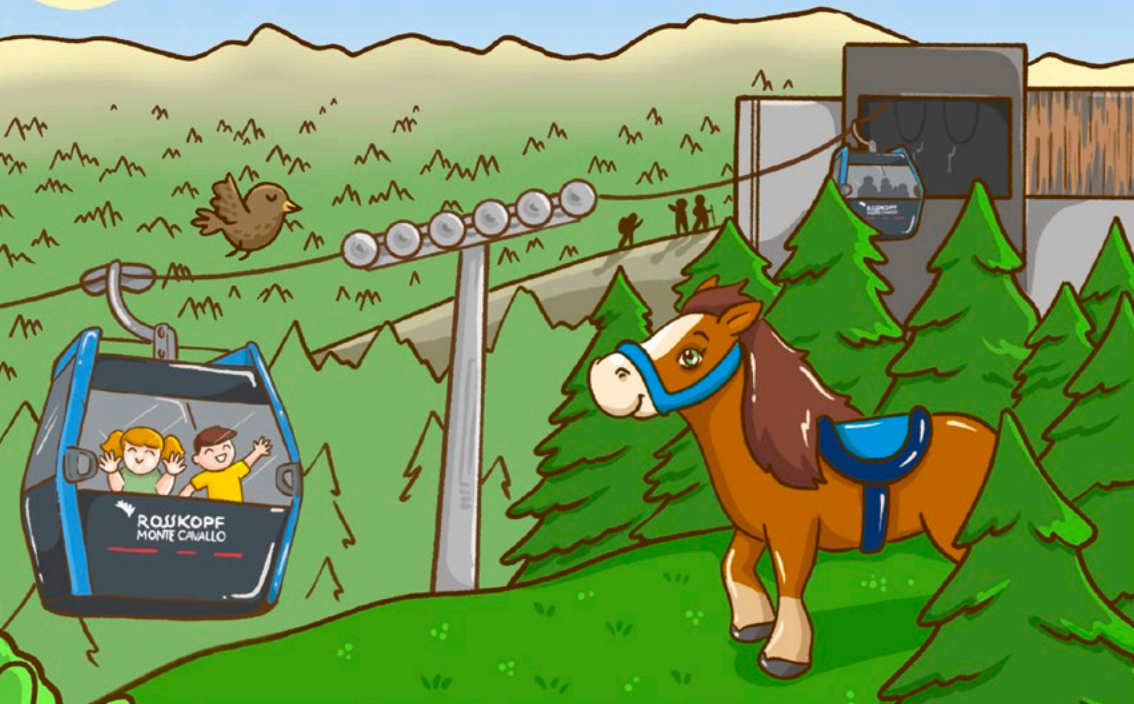

5 Forest Labyrinth

7 Biotope "Kastellacke"

Vallmingalmen

Furlhütte

Rossy is a friendly and curious little horse, always ready for new adventures. Since birth, Rossy has lived on the mountain near Sterzing, called Rosskopf. Every day, he is happy to see the many visitors, both big and small, who come to explore the mountain. What Rossy doesn't like at all are the days when the cable cars doesn't bring any guests up to Rosskopf.

Here on the Rosskopf, Rossy has many favourite spots. One of them is the Köpfl. There is an impressive summit cross where you have a great view of the surrounding mountains. Especially the mighty Tribulaun can be admired from up here. Rossy loves to climb up to the Köpfl early in the morning to experience the sunrise.

Next, Rossy happily gallops to the panoramic swing. He thoroughly enjoys swinging high into the air, neighing joyfully. He comes here every day and rings the wishing bell next to the swing. The bell carries wishes, thoughts, and prayers over the mountain peaks and beyond into the valley.

Rossy loves to race down the mountain on the summer toboggan run. Neighing happily, he waves to his friends along the way. Rossy takes every curve with a wide grin. He knows no fear — the faster, the better. By now, he even holds the track record on the run.

Arrived at the bottom, Rossy enjoys himself at the playground. There are water games, slides, and a fantastic sandbox. Rossy has a lot of fun building sandcastles and playing in the water with the children.

Rossy has many friends on the Rosskopf.
In the petting zoo “Rossy Park,” there are llamas, pygmy goats, rabbits, and donkeys. Sometimes,
he accompanies the llamas on their trekking tours.
While the children lead the llamas by their halters, Rossy happily neighs behind them, telling funny jokes.

Rossy's favorite path is the "Rossy Walk."
Anyone who steps through the wooden horseshoe is already on the exciting adventure trail named after Rossy. On the "Rossy Walk," there are many different adventure stations that not only Rossy loves to visit.

Rossy has a great time playing the game memory with his friends. The llama Rocky is particularly skilled at memory. Rossy doesn't like losing game at all, so he prefers to play with the goat Lotte, who can't remember any memory of the pairs.

For Rossy, there is no better sound than the ringing of bells. Along the Rossy Walk, he can showcase his musical talent at the chimes. Rossy's bell concerts are legendary and are attended by numerous forest dwellers. He has even been invited to the Sterzing Christmas market.

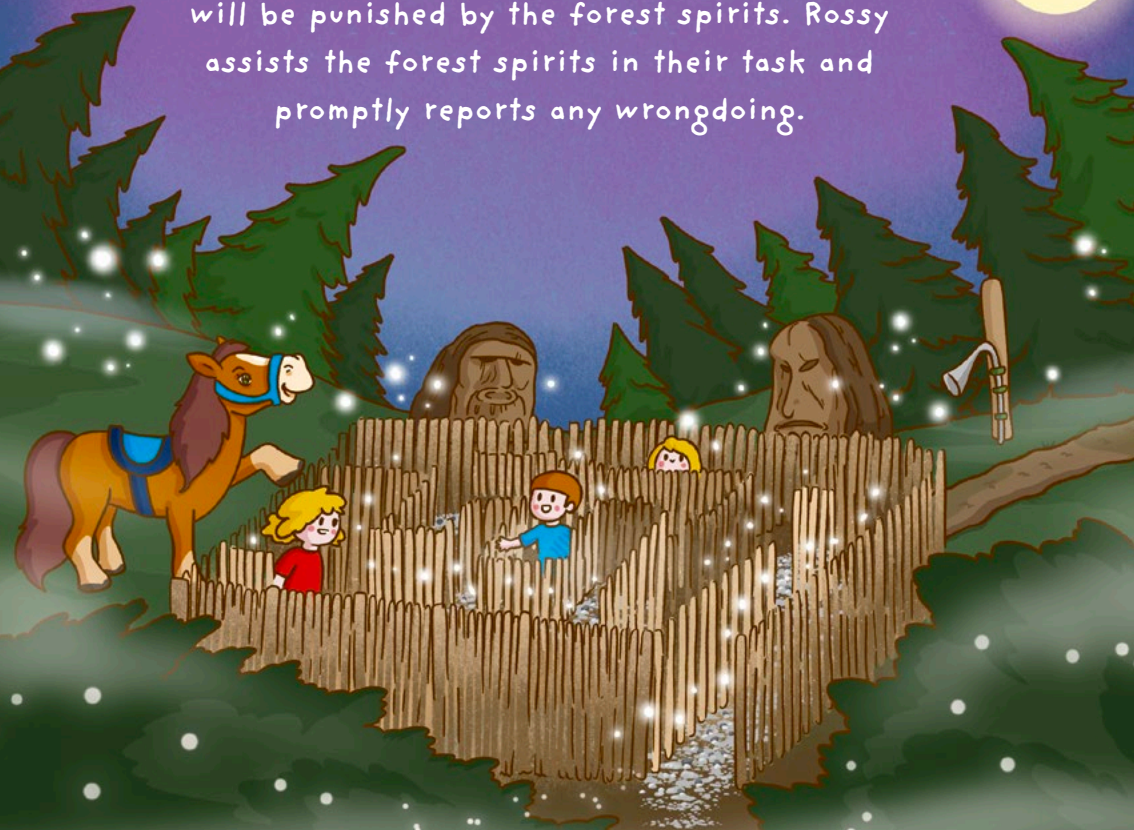

Rossy is the patron of the wild horse. Big and small children can climb around wildly here and feel like real cowboys and cowgirls. Rossy himself doesn't like climbing very much. He prefers to watch and make sure no one falls off the horse.

Rossy enjoys spending time with the dragonfly Susi and the butterfly Toni. They both have such beautiful colours that they can be spotted from afar in the forest. These colourful companions are very popular among both the forest residents and the visitors of the Rossy Walk.

The forest spirits are the guardians of the forest labyrinth and the Rossy Walk. They ensure that every child finds their way through the labyrinth and that the beautiful forest path remains clean. Anyone who leaves their trash here will be punished by the forest spirits. Rossy assists the forest spirits in their task and promptly reports any wrongdoing.

Along one spot of the Rossy Walk, there are several anthills where millions of ants live. Each anthill is like a small city underground, full of secret chambers and tunnels. There, one or even several ant queens rule over their colony. Rossy is always fascinated by the bustling activity of these little creatures.

Time for a break! The Kastellacke biotope is the perfect place for a picnic. In the evening, when there are no more visitors, Rössy likes to come to this small mountain lake. Together with the cows, he sings beautiful songs and enjoys the fresh grass. On warm summer nights, the animals sleep snuggled closely together under the starry sky.

At the last station of the adventure trail live Rossy's friends, the snow hares.
Only those who crawl deep into the hare burrow can see them. Rossy likes to come here to play hide and seek with his friend Nivi. Nivi prefers to hide deep underground in the hare burrow, where Rossy can never find her.

Rossy loves riding the cable car down to the valley and then back up the mountain. From up there, he can look out over the beautiful town of Sterzing. He especially likes the town's landmark: the „Zwölfer-turm“ tower. The tower stands at an impressive height of 46 meters and is named after its bell, which rings daily at exactly 12 o'clock.

In winter, Rossy is an enthusiastic skier. He straps four small wooden boards to his hooves and zooms down the slopes. The only thing Rossy finds a bit challenging is braking. That's why he has signed up for ski lessons. The children in the ski course are always thrilled when Rössy joins them and they get to see one of his funny crashes.

Rossy loves sledding in the winter. Skilfully, he zooms down the 10 km long toboggan run from the mountain to the valley. Turning in the curves doesn't always work perfectly, but that doesn't stop the cheerful little horse. It neighs joyfully, and the fun sleigh ride just continues!

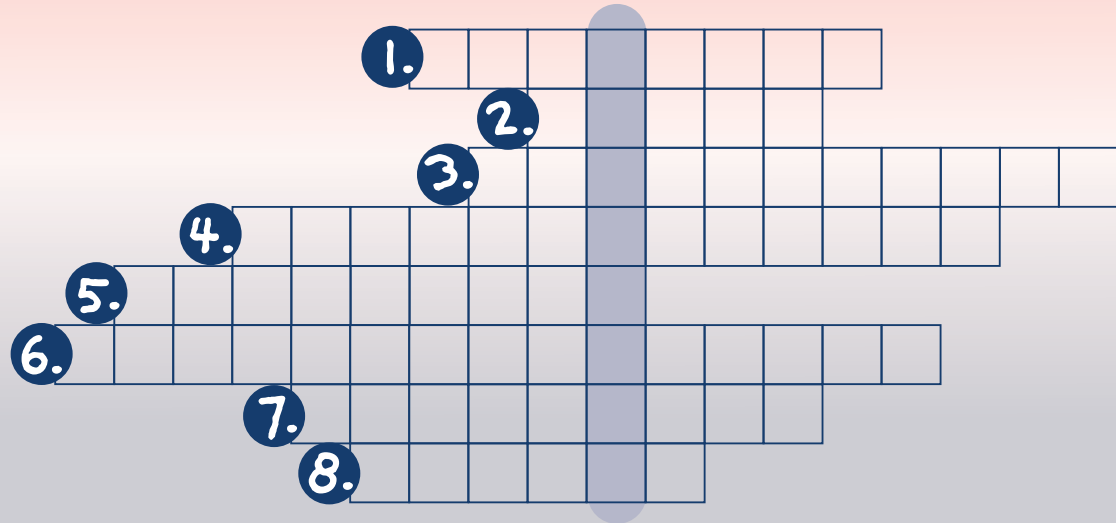

Rossy and his snow hare friend Nivi enjoy strolling along the winter hiking trail “Flaner Jöch”. In winter, Nivi’s fur is especially white. She blends into the snow so well that she’s hard to see, which makes hide-and-seek even more challenging. That’s why Rossy prefers a fun snowball fight instead.

CROSSWORD PUZZLE

1. What is the name of the small town that Rossy likes to visit?
2. Which of Rossy's friends can remember Memory Pairs so well?
3. What is the name of the bell that carries your wishes into the valley?
4. Who are the guardians of the forest?
5. What is the name of the adventure trail named after Rossy?
6. Sliding down is really fun with the _____?
7. What is the name of the petting zoo?
8. What is the name of the peak at Rosskopf?

Solution word _____

Name _____

ROSSKOPF
MONTE CAVALLO

And when are you coming?

